The golden autumn sunset

When I subscribed to Jeny's site, I thought I was only interested in her big collection of videos, and I was not interested in anything else. What a stupid prejudice! After a while, I detected the photosets and saw that nearly all of them are beautiful and of high quality. And one day, I detected this photoset, the "Golden Autumn Sunset". First, I looked at the thumbnails on the Photoset page, 15 photos. Then I pushed on the "show all photos" button: wow! More than 200 thumbnails appeared! And I saw: this is a real masterpiece of a Photoset!

A 10plus out of 10 masterpiece

All the photos are full of beauty. As a basis, there is the beautiful surroundings, an autumn wood, the trees in colours, mainly yellow to brown, you can see that they are about to drop their leaves within the next weeks to get completely naked. In our garden, we have trees with autumn colours from yellow to deep red. While the red is missing on the trees in this Russian wood, Jeny is adding the red with the colour of her clothes, and she adds her perfect beauty, including different shades of her outstanding smile, to the beautiful surroundings. And yes, as one would expect, Jeny is about to drop her clothes during the photoset to get completely naked.

I love this autumn wood, I love Jeny's beauty, but there is a third thing I love: as a rank amateur in the field of photography, I know that it is hard to capture such a beauty on photos. But I love Alex's work as a photographer and how he uses light conditions (or additional light) to capture this beauty. Chapeau to both, Jeny and Alex!

Survival kit for a desert island

Then I saw Jeny's introductory remark that she knew the photoset is too large with 233 photos, but she liked all the photos and could not select any photos to eliminate. I myself was torn between two opinions: my feeling was that the preview images I saw were all really great. But my mind as a scientist said you can always select the top x, if you are not too greedy. So, as a Jeny admirer, I went on a journey through the photoset, accompanied by my brain-driven "alter ego" who wanted to advise me on how to choose the top 30 photos. It was the game of "choose a maximum of 30 photos that you can take to a desert island" as a "survival kit". And yes, I will need beautiful photos of Jeny on such a desert island, helping me survive!

So we, my alter ego and I, started the journey through 233 photos, a hike through an autumn forest with 233 stops, through which a red dressed angel guide showing me the way. And there's a golden light shining down on me, on my alter ego and on this angel guide, an autumn sunset light.

The desert island game: only allowed to take 30 photos with you!

I did this journey through this large menu (223 photos to watch) in three stages on three different days, on each stage my "alter ego" had allowed me to select 10 images, 30 in total, to take with me to a desert island. My result was devastating: when I selected the thirtieth picture, I was only at photo 123 of 223, and after discussion with my alter ego, I had already given up 11 pictures that I actually wanted to have. In the following, we will only comment on very few of the photos we met on our journey – not all the 59 photos I urgently wanted to have – instead of 30 only being allowed.

Here are some examples of photos, I selected for the desert island: Jeny fully clothed, her red coat with high collar, but with a pussy flash, and with one of her beautiful smiles. Jeny on a photo with three layers, some leaves in front, Jeny in focus, the autumn wood and the low sun shining through the trees, near sunset, in the background. And Jeny topless, showing her perfect apple-shaped breasts, while one of her earrings extensions is tickling her right nipple.

Yes, I got 30 of those fantastic shots, some others can be seen at the beginning of this review. But on my walk through this autumn wood, I had to leave behind a lot of photos I wanted to have urgently! And as me and my alter ego stopped at photo 123 of 223, the punishment began. I knew, that I have to look at 100 photos to come, but my "budget" was already exhausted! And here we show some photos I wasn't allowed to pick up on this journey, what a pity! Jeny bending over, smiling back to the camera, an exciting butt view with a glimpse of pussy, her high heels impaling some autumn-coloured leaves, an interesting technique to carry home some autumn decoration! Jeny on her signature photo, the one I'm seeing on the homepage of her website daily, Jeny with a melancholic smile, fully clothed with coat, top, stockings in red, and gloves and suspenders in black, but – typical for Jeny – bottomless. Jeny showing her back, her magnificent legs and butt. And Jeny standing, her gloves, suspenders and stockings framing her pussy, additionally showing her beautiful chest.

If you want to follow the footsteps of me, my alter ego, and our red angel guide Jeny, you can go to the photo viewer on Jeny's site and "walk" through the 233 photos in the same order as we did. Then you can follow my exhausting discussions with my alter ego, talking about 59 photos of the set. Here is the link for the start of this tour:

пока-пока to our angel guide Jeny, I'll leave your autumn forest now! Thank you and Alex again for this wonderful set!

A too good and too long menu: the photoset

I now understand Jeny's comment above the photoset that she apologized for its size because she couldn't sort out any pictures. Jeny, you are right! It's a punishment when you restrict yourself to only 30 photos, we can simply not decide without extremely painful decisions! And even if you would have been allowed to take 60 photos, you will still mourn many images you had to sort out!

Meanwhile, more than a month has passed since the last leg of my tour and I have now fooled my alter ego after all: I just do not go to a desert island, stay at home, and have all 223 photos now available - besides all other photosets and all of Jeny's videos! Yes, what a good decision!

To not be overwhelmed by the large amount of extraordinary photos in this photoset, try to follow a quite simple "tactic": Choose a nice photo and then look at it for one day. The day after, pick the next photo. One photo every day. This photoset alone is enough for more than seven months then! And to fill up a year, you need additional ... 142 photos you can select from other high quality photosets on Jeny's site. I will try to select some from another outdoor photoset, shot in Moscow, the "Yellow Heels" photoset. Oh, I see, 443 photos! OMG, the same torture will begin again ...

The soundtrack

In January 2023, when I saw this photoset first, a new album by one of my 1970s hard rock heroes, Uriah Heep, had been published, and I heard the song "Golden light" only a few days after detecting the photoset. Thank you, Uriah Heep, for publishing the perfect song for the "Golden Autumn Sunset" photoset, just in time!
